MISSION NO. 37
16TH. MARCH, 1944

94TH. COMBAT BOMB WING
401ST. BOMBARDMENT GROUP (H)

REPORT OF OPERATIONAL
DAY

MISSION No. 37

Date: 16 MAR 44

TO: AUGSBURG , GER.

OFFICE OF THE INTELLIGENCE OFFICER

18 March 1944.

SUBJECT: Strange B-17.

TO : Captain Schap, ^{1ST. DIV.} ~~94th Combat Wing~~, APO 634, U. S. Army, Att. A-2.

1. Supplementing our TWX narrative on the Augsburg mission, we are submitting an extract from our interrogation as follows:

a. 1036 hrs. (4901 - 0405 E) 18000 ft. - TTG and TG observed strange B-17 join formation [U] on tail. Came in head-on, swung around and joined from rear. Fired two green flares - no chin turret. The TT of this B-17 did not move. When P-47 came up to Group this A/C dropped wheels, peeled off and went down into clouds in opposite direction from our course. Serial No. might end in 733.

b. 1100 hrs. (4830 - 0800 E) strange B-17 [G] stayed with formation for five minutes.

c. 1033 hrs. (80 miles inside France) B-17 [G] 23537 appeared to be aborting and passed us on our right then turned around and came up into formation for 17 minutes, then let down wheels and went back toward coast.

d. B-17 with [G] no one in BT or TT. Had red border around rectangle. No Squadron insignia - left formation when P-47's arrived.

SUBJECT: Crew Comments and Suggestions, Mission of 16 March 1944.

TO : COMMANDING OFFICER, 401st Bombardment Group (H), APO 634.

1. Capt. Donald G. McCree, Group Leader, suggests that it would be well for the Wing Leader to effect his rendezvous with the high and low group at some point before the spares turn back; today, rendezvous was not effected until the formation was actually over the enemy coast.

2. Lt. Samuel P. Wilson, Pilot, A/C 1369, stated that his crew had to wait thirty minutes for truck from dispersal area; this Airplane Commander is also of the opinion that other A/C taxied too slow today.

3. Lt. William J. Heck, Navigator, A/C 9879, stated that radio in his A/C was very poor today.

4. Lt. Clyde A. Lewis, Pilot, A/C 1963, stated that one A/C in the lead squadron of this Group discharged chaff for some time after 1235 hours (target was bombed at 1223 hours). S/Sgt. Ralph A. Hannabury, LNC, A/C 0855, believes that chaff is not now dropped according to exigencies of the situation and suggests a portion of it be saved against the possibility of running into additional flak areas.

5. The crew of Lt. Lee S. Bartley, Pilot A/C 0001, observed that the 457th Bomb Group dropped bombs practically through this Group on the bomb run, stating that A/C 0001 was barely missed. S/Sgt. Michael Helzman, TG, A/C 1091, confirmed this observation.

6. Lt. Elmer W. Engelhardt, Navigator, A/C 9847, stated that the Deenethorpe Buncher was jammed and was of no value at a distance farther than ten miles. Lt. Francis L. Shaw, Pilot, A/C 9847, wants steel helmets for his crew even if they are provided by ground personnel; this Airplane Commander also says that one kit and two flak suits were stolen from his truck.

7. Lt. Robert P. Walsh, Pilot, A/C 1068, wants better food served to his crew in the mess; this Airplane Commander also could not understand why the 401st Group left the Wing formation when it was under attack by fighters and bombed what he thought was "a little town".

SUBJECT: Enemy Opposition and Tactical Analysis Report.

TO : Commanding General, 1st Bombardment Division, APO 634, U.S. Army.
 (Attention: A-2.)

1. The 401st Group sent 18 A/C on this mission flying in the low box. From 20 to 25 E/A were observed, mostly Me-109's, the markings of which are noted below. Attacks were individually made from no one level or angle and were not pressed. Our fighter cover was not seen for a period of one hour after leaving target area. It was during this time that most of the attacks were made. One crew commented "it seemed as though they were firing only with 20 mm. E/A began firing at extreme range and broke off early. 5 He-113's were seen at (4914-0253E) - they did not attack.

2. Following is a chronological record of attacks:

- (a) 1244 hours (target area) - 3 Me-109's, all silver, made attacks which started from 1500 yards and broke off at 800 yards. They seemed like rookies.
- (b) 1250 hours (4830-0900E) - silver FW-190 attacked from 12 o'clock level.
- (c) 1253 hours (4816-0850E) - solid blue Me-109 came in low and broke off at 400 yards, went into a slow roll while still firing, then went into a spin but recovered 5000 feet below.
- (d) 1255 hours (4830-0800E) - 2 Me-109's attacked from sun and broke off at 300 yards.
- (e) 1310 hours (4820-0720E) - 2 Me-109's, black with gray markings, sat outside of formation for some time, then turned in at 9 o'clock breaking off attack at 400 yards. They were not persistent or aggressive.
- (f) 1335 hours (4850-0450E) - black Me-109, with silver nose, attacked from 3 o'clock.
- (g) 1345 hours (4850-0500E) - 2 Me-109's attacked from sun and broke off at 300 yards.
- (h) 1345 hours (4840-0635E) - 5 Me-109's attacked individually over a period of 15 minutes, from tail and nose. Not aggressive.
- (i) 1345 hours (Toul) - 2 Me-109's, painted like P-51's and using P-51 tactics, made 6 passes from all angles, breaking off at 200 yards. Very aggressive.
- (j) 1345 hours (4833-0658E) - 2 old type FW-190's came in from 9 o'clock level and returned for several tail attacks. Both were aggressive. TG says both were damaged.
- (k) 1345 hours (4840-0500E) - 3 Me-109's attacked individually from nose. 2 of them returned to attack the tail, then the nose, then the tail again. Attacks pressed closely. One was dark green with yellow markings, the other was black.

- (l) 1354 hours (4850-0430E) - Me-109's, 2 black and 2 silver, came in from different points level, started firing at extreme range and broke off before closing.
- (m) 1355 hours (4843-0610E) - black Me-109, with yellow line at wing roots, attacked from 6 o'clock level, broke off at 500 yards.
- (n) 1400 hours (4840-0620E) - Me-109 attacked from 10 o'clock level. Was not aggressive.
- (o) 1400 hours (4846-0460E) - 2 FW-190's, all black with long nose, attacked from 12 o'clock high and one returned for 2 more passes.
- (p) 1410 hours (4853-0400E) - Me-109, green with white belly, made 3 passes.
- (q) 1430 hours (4910-0310E) - black Me-109, with silver nose, attacked from 12 o'clock high. Not aggressive.

Report on A.A. Gunfire.

401st BOMBARDMENT GROUP (H)

1. Target: Assigned . . . Lachfeld Date of Mission . 16 Mar. 44
 Bombed . . . Augsburg

2. Route as Flown:-
Exactly as briefed

3. Weather conditions: (a) At target . . . 10/10 (PPF)
 (b) En route . . . 6/10 to 10/10 undercast
 4. Were our A.C "Seen" or "Unseen" targets? (a) At target . Unseen
 (b) En route . . . Unseen
 Any Condensation trails? . . Occasional light

5. Description of Flak at Target, including METHOD OF FIRE CONTROL
Moderate, fair deflection and altitude, 70% black bursts with about 30% white which burst high. Some flak burst about a mile low, thought possibly because of chaff from wing ahead.

6. Flak encountered or observed en route. (IN the order experienced)
Very meager, black flak poor for altitude and deflection encountered at following: (4800-1011E) (IP) (4903-0357E) (4923-0243E).

7. Was CHAFF carried? . . . Yes
 How discharged? As briefed

OFFICE OF THE INTELLIGENCE OFFICER
STATION 128 - APO 634
U. S. ARMY

E- -1

16 March 1944.

SUBJECT: Crew Comments and Suggestions, Mission of 16 March 1944.

TO : COMMANDING OFFICER, 401st Bombardment Group (H), APO 634.

1. Capt Donald G Mc Cree, Group leader, suggests that it would be well for the Wing Leader to effect his rendezvous with the high and low group at some time before the spares turn back. Today, rendezvous was not effected until the formation was actually over the enemy coast.

2. Lt Samuel P Wilson, Pilot AC 1369, stated that his crew had to wait thirty minutes for truck from dispersal area; this airplane commander is also of the opinion that other AC taxied too slow today.

3. Lt William J Meek, Navigator, AC 9379, stated that radio in his AC today was very poor.

4. Lt Clyde A Lewis, Pilot AC 1983, stated that one AC in the lead squadron of this Group discharged chaff for some time after 1235 hours (target was bombed at 1233 hours). S/Sgt Ralph A Hannabury, LWGA/AC 0955 believes that chaff is not now dropped according to exigencies of the situation and suggests a portion of it be saved against the possibility of running into additional Flak areas.

5. The crew of Lt Lee S Hartley, Pilot AC 0001, observed that the 457th Bomb Group dropped bombs practically through this Group on the bomb run, stating that AC 0001 was barely missed. S/Sgt Michael Helman, TG AC 091 confirmed this observation.

6. Lt Elmer W Engelhardt, Navigator AC 9847, stated that the Deenethorpe buncher was jammed and was of no value at a distance further than 10 miles. Lt Francis L Shaw, Pilot AC 9847, wants steel helmets for his crew even if they are provided by ground personnel; this airplane commander also says that one kit and two flak suits were stolen from his truck.

7. Lt Robert P Walsh, Pilot AC 1098, wants better food served to his crew in the mess; this airplane commander also could not understand why the 401st group left the Wing formation when it was under attack by fighters and bombed what he thought was a "little town".
